Re: Town of Montauk, Inc. v. Pataki, et al.

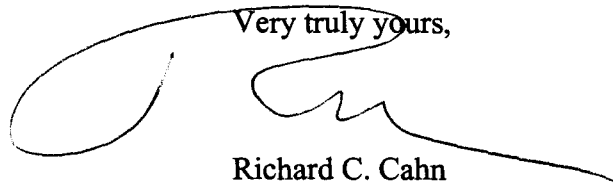

Dear Mr. Kolodny:

I have repeatedly written to you and telephoned you to advise you of our office address, not to mention that it clearly has appeared on every letter, pleading or brief that I have filed in this proceeding and served upon you; yet you persist in sending papers to me at an address, 425 Broadhollow Road, Suite 315, that neither I nor my firm have occupied since November 1, 2002 -- almost six years ago.

You will kindly desist from sending materials to me at the wrong address. Your actions in totally ignoring proper procedures in this case are becoming legendary, and this is a ridiculous reduction to the lowest level of carelessness on your part.

I also wish to caution you that we regard your pending Motion before the Court of Appeals as utterly frivolous and, unless the Motion is withdrawn, we reserve the right to apply for sanctions against you personally, as well as against your client.

Very truly yours,

Richard C. Cahn
